

CATHERINE WONG

UNDP Team Leader

United Nations Development Programme

Catherine Wong is UNDP's Global Team Leader for Climate and Security Risk and its principal technical lead on climate, peace and security. She is matrixed to UNDP's Crisis Bureau and Climate Hub. Catherine possesses more than 15 years' experience working on climate change and environment at HQ and in-the-field. She serves as UNDP's focal point on the Climate Security Mechanism, the UN Water-led core group on Leveraging Water for Peace and on the Steering Committee of the Shared Waters Partnership. She was recognized as one of 25 Young Leaders by the Munich Security Conference and is an observer of the International Military Council for Climate and Security. Catherine is lead or co-leading author of more than 20 publications, including peer-reviewed journal articles, UN studies and flagship publications on climate and environment, including climate security and finance.

