

TOM ELLISON

Deputy Director

The Centre for Climate and Security \(CCS\)

Tom Ellison is Deputy Director of the Center for Climate and Security (CCS), where he helps lead climate risk analysis, policy engagement, and training initiatives. His writing on climate security can be found in Lawfare, Just Security, and elsewhere. Prior to joining CCS, he spent a decade in the US intelligence community, where he helped expand analysis of the security and foreign policy implications of climate change for senior policymakers across the US government. In prior assignments, he received commendations for intelligence analysis of terrorist threats, insurgencies, and political turmoil during the Arab Spring. He has travelled extensively in Europe and the Middle East, including war zones.

Tom is an Arabic speaker and holds an M.A. in Security Studies from Georgetown University and a B.A. in Political Science from Colgate University. He also volunteers on behalf of refugees and asylum seekers and writes humor and satire in outlets like The New Yorker and McSweeney's.
