Woodrow Wilson International Center's Polar Institute and Environmental Change & Security Program

Sherri Goodman is Senior Fellow at the Woodrow Wilson International Center's Polar Institute and Environmental Change & Security Program and Secretary General of the International Military Council on Climate & Security (IMCCS), representing over 40 military and national security organizations addressing the security risks of a changing climate.

Sherri serves as Vice-Chair of the US Secretary of State's International Security Advisory Board (ISAB). She co-chairs, with Dan Poneman, the High Level Commission on Nuclear Energy and Climate Security.

Sherri is the author of Threat Multiplier: Climate, Military Leadership and the Fight for Global Security (Island Press 2024).

Sherri chairs the Board of the Council on Strategic Risks and chairs the External Advisory Board on Energy and Homeland Security for Sandia National Laboratories. She serves on the Climate Council of the US EXIM Bank. Sherri is a Board Director of the Atlantic Council and a Life Member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Sherri is the former President and CEO of the Consortium for Ocean Leadership. She served as Senior Vice President and General Counsel of CNA (US Center for Naval Analyses). She is the founder and Executive Director of the CNA Military Advisory Board, whose landmark reports include National Security and the Threat of Climate Change (2007) and Advanced Energy and US National Security (2017).

Sherri served as the first Deputy Undersecretary of Defense (Environmental Security), (1993-2001), where she was responsible for environmental, energy, safety and occupational health for the US Department of Defense. She established the first environmental, safety and health performance metrics for the Department, and led its energy efficiency, environmental and natural resource conservation programs. Overseeing the President's plan for revitalizing base closure communities, she ensured that 80% of base closure property became available for transfer and reuse. She led the Secretary's Arctic Military Environmental Cooperation program which developed a container for storage of spent nuclear fuel for liquid waste from Russian nuclear submarines.

Sherri received EPA's Climate Change Award and twice received the DOD medal for Distinguished Public Service. She received an Honorary Doctorate from Amherst College in 2018 and the Environmental Peacebuilding Associations' Lifetime Achievement Award in 2024.

A graduate of Amherst College, she has degrees from Harvard Law School and Harvard Kennedy School.
