Dr. KATIE WOODWARD

Head of Research, Analysis and Lessons Learned

NATO Climate Change and Security Centre of Excellence \(CCASCOE\)

Dr. Katie Woodward is the Deputy Head of Research, Analysis and Lessons at the NATO Climate Change and Security Centre of Excellence (CCASCOE) in Montreal, Canada. A Fellow of the UK MOD's Defence Science and Technology Laboratory (Dstl), Katie's specialism is in psychology, human security, terrorism, and the social and behavioural impacts of climate change.

Katie previously led the UK's Behavioural Science Influence Programme and the Support and Sustainability Science and Technology Programme, both of which provided critical research shaping the MOD's approach to security and sustainability.
