EMMYLOU SERGENT
Director of Strategic Accompaniment
ADIT North America

Emmylou Sergent is the Director of Strategic Accompaniment at ADIT North America, a firm specializing in strategic intelligence and business diplomacy. Her work spans market intelligence, partnership identification, strategic networking, due diligence, and security-focused analysis, helping clients navigate complex markets and reduce uncertainty in their global projects.

She previously served as Events Coordinator at the Conference of Defence Associations (CDA) Institute in Ottawa, where she organized national defence conferences and led the National Security and Defence Dialogues. She completed an internship at the French National Assembly in Paris, within the cooperation and bilateral affairs branch, where she drafted policy briefs on foreign policy issues and supported the parliamentary diplomacy that underpins France's relationships with Canada and Québec.

She holds a Master's degree in International Relations from the University of Montréal, with a specialization in Culture, Conflict and Peace. Her thesis examined France's diplomatic presence and Indo-Pacific strategy in the region. She is also a member of the Strategic Analysis Network, an analyst in the Young Researchers Program of the Institute for Applied Geopolitical Studies (IEGA) in Paris and an alumna of the France-Canada Future Leaders Program.
