

JOSS GARMAN

Founder and Executive Director

Loom Strategy Center

Joss Garman is the Founder and Executive Director of Loom, and an independent adviser to a number of global philanthropies.

He has 20 years experience working at the intersection of campaigns, media, politics, and policy on energy, environment & foreign affairs, including through leadership roles in NGOs, think tanks, politics, and philanthropy. These have included Executive Director of the European Climate Foundation, and Associate Director of the Institute for Public Policy Research. The Sunday Times, Politico, and The Guardian have named Joss among the UK's most influential voices on climate change.

Joss is an alumni of both the United States International Visitor Leadership Programme (IVLP) and Europe's Young Leaders Programme (EYL). His writing has appeared in The Times, The Observer, The Independent, The i, Politico, The Mirror and The Guardian.
